The sawdust nuisance continues. The Truckee river, the finest stream of water in Nevada, is being ruined by the saw mills along its banks. Time and time again the facts in the case have been represented, the evils strongly depicted, but still the nuisance continues unabated. There is certainly some way to put a stop to this curse inflicted upon the people of Nevada, and it should be done immediately. An epidemic, deadly in its character, will be the result if this work is permitted to go on. The water is now so impure that those who use it only court sickness and death. Warm weather is coming on, which will aggravate the situation and populate our graveyards. Californians would speedily find a way to check the outrage if the case was reversed. No expense should be spared, and energetic measures should be immediately adopted and carried to a successful end. The welfare of the fish is a secondary consideration. Irrigating ditches are filled with debris from the mills, it is piled along the banks of the river, and after a time it goes through a state of fermentation, generating a species of maggot and an intolerable stench. Some years ago, if we have been correctly informed, there was an appropriation made by the Nevada Legislature to be expended in effecting a settlement of the sawdust question, and that the amount so appropriated is still available for this purpose. If such is the case legal action should be taken without delay. Pure water is a great boon, and we can have it, and health also, if the sawdust nuisance is stopped.

The most moving disclosure as to the dire effects of the Inter-State Commerce law comes from Ohio. There it is alleged the area of reciprocal good feeling, amicable sentiment and general amity existing between public officials and the railroad corporations has been wholly destroyed by the abolition of passes.

It is alleged that since the passes of county auditors have been cut off, those officers have conceived the remarkable idea that railroad property is worth as much as any other real estate. The corporations are on the verge of having to pay full rates of taxation; and the whole business of assessment and payment of taxes is on the brink of being reduced to a vulgar business basis.

Likewise it is intimated that since newspaper passes became scarce and hard to get at, the press of Ohio has cultivated a remarkable frankness in giving the bald facts as to railroad accidents and corporation fights with the corners wholly unrounded. This is also a very uncomfortable and displeasing experience for the railroad officials and produces much oburgation concerning "that infernal law."

It would not be surprising, says the Pittsburgh Dispatch, if the Ohio railroads should discover, as the Pennsylvania roads have, that the law permits a certain degree of liberty in the issue of passes. But until they do so, the general public will be likely to grin and bear these novel effects of the railroad construction of the law, with undisturbed equanimity.

Mrs. Kissane Talks.

SAN FRANCISCO, June 1.
Since the fact of the whereabouts of the now widely notorious Wm. Kissane, alias Wm. K. Rodgers, was made known two days ago, newspaper men have visited his ranch about three miles from Sonoma. The house of Kissane is of stone with broad verandahs, and is most charmingly situated. At his home are his wife and grown daughters. To the reporter to-day the wife of Kissane said: "Gen. Francis Darr, to whom is ascribed the reopening of Kissane's eastern career, had made the exposure owing to Kissane's failure to pay a claim for $3,400 on account of the Chemical Bank of New York. Since the suit had actually been commenced the amount had dropped to $4,300." Mrs. Rodgers says General Darr and his wife had visited them at their house prior to the publication of the details of her husband's supposed career, as she claims, to take an inventory of their effects, but had expressed only the most friendly personal regard. Mrs. Rodgers was asked how she thought the affair would end? "I know how it would have ended long ago if I had not begged and implored my husband for my sake and the sake of our children to leave the punishment of Darr's malice and cruelty to some other hand than his own." She replied it is well for General Darr that Colonel Rodgers has a family around him, some of them little ones, or long before this he would have had to settle with a man whom he has pursued like a fiend for no cause, that we can imagine, except a desire to extort money. She said her husband would defend the matter in the courts.

Clear the Way.

Without loss of time, when the intestinal canal is blocked up by reason of constipation, chronic or temporary. It should be borne in mind that this ailment is prone to become lasting and obstinate and breed other and worse complaints. Hostetter's Stomach Bitters is the precise remedy to remove the obstruction effectually, but without drenching or weakening the proclivities, a consequence always to be apprehended from the use of violent laxatives, which are among the most pernicious of the cheap nostrums, swallowed by the credulous and misinformed. The flat of experience, and of the medical fraternity, sanctions the claims of this standard aperient. Not only as a source of relief and permanent regularity to the bowels, liver and stomach, but as a means of remedying and preventing liver and kidney and bladder troubles, and fever and ague, it is without a peer.

Vine Culture.

There is no reason why grape culture should not be carried on successfully in Nevada. Experiments on a small scale have been made, but they cannot be regarded as a conclusive test. Those who have experimented in this way and failed, labor under the impression that the climate is not conducive to the welfare of vines. Transplanted vines might not thrive, but a variety of grapes could be propagated from the seed that would take kindly to our soil and climate and yield well. In Ohio and other eastern States where the Winters are much colder than in Nevada the vines flourish and we can see no reason why a hardy variety could not be cultivated successfully here. Mr. Cohn, of Carson, is experimenting with grapes on a large scale, and is well satisfied that he can make them productive and thereby demonstrate the fact that our warm hillsides can be converted into well paying vineyards. Some varieties will do better than others, and these are the ones to encourage.

LIVING IN RENO.

A Few Items of Interest Concerning the Cost—Health, Happiness and a Good Market.

Parties who are considering a removal from one place to another propound many questions relative to the place under consideration in order to satisfy themselves as to whether a move would be judicious. In some portions of Nevada firewood is a very important item to those who have families to support. The cost of living is invariably a consideration of great importance to those in search of new homes. In this respect the town of Reno is particularly favored. The close proximity of the town to the mountains guarantees cheap firewood, and a fine quality can be purchased for $5 per cord. Being in the very heart of a great agricultural country vegetables of every description are cheap, and the cost of living is very small. The California market is almost at the door of Reno, and all kinds of fruit and berries can be had nearly as cheap as in the State where they are produced. Our business men are enterprising and carry a large assortment of everything in their respective lines of trade, and groceries, clothing and house furnishings goods are sold at reasonable figures. House rent is reasonable. A good house with four rooms and a kitchen can be rented at from $13 to $18 per month. Lumber for all purposes sells at a low figure, and those who understand such matters claim that houses of any description can be built here as cheap as anywhere on the coast. Property is steadily advancing in value. A desirable lot, 50x140 feet, for a residence in a good locality can be purchased for $150, $250 and upwards. The health of Reno is remarkably good, and with a complete sewerage system, such as will be constructed here shortly, it will always remain so.

But of greater importance than all else, to those who have families, is the school system in Reno. There are no better schools, both public and private, to be found anywhere than here. The management of our public places of instruction is, and always has been, in the keeping of competent hands, and are guarded ever carefully by the supporters of them. It is the proud boast of our people that our schools are on the plain of the highest perfection, and will always remain so.

Even during the warmest weather in summer the nights are cool and one can sleep very comfortably under bed clothing. Fish are plentiful, and all kinds of the choicest meat can be found in our markets.

In fact, Reno can offer a good home, health, happiness plenty of food and prosperity to any industrious man in search of such things.

Up With the Times.

John Sunderland expects to open out by the 15th instant a large and fine stock of gents' hats, caps, furnishing goods, etc., of the very latest styles, in his new and handsome store on Virginia street, adjoining his boot and shoe store. When completely furnished the store will undoubtedly be one of the handsomest between San Francisco and the Missouri river. As to the stock of goods he intends carrying, everything will be ordered from the East, so as to insure his patrons only the latest, best and most improved styles. For a long time many Nevadans who want such articles send to San Francisco, Salt Lake City and eastern cities. This trade Mr. Sunderland means to get, and everything new, especially in the way of gentlemen's furnishing goods, he will have in stock just as soon, if not sooner, than it is received in San Francisco.

Interest in the Coming Fair.

The people of the State appear to be taking more than ordinary interest in the Fair to take place this Fall, and the indications are that it will be the grandest display of Nevada products ever brought together. The local agricultural societies throughout the State are taking energetic steps for a fine home display, and this of course will be beneficial to the Fair to be held here. The officials of the State Society will leave no stone unturned and everything will be done by them to make the Fair what it should be.

Mrs. "Sandy" Bowers in Reno.

Mrs. L. S. Bowers has returned from San Francisco to Reno and was last evening and this morning called on at the Pollard House by many of her old friends, who gladly welcome her back to sageland. She and Andrew McDonald, the well-known Scotch mining expert, will go to Virginia City to-morrow morning, where they will remain for a few days.

Indian Fugitives.

One of the exciting scenes of the morning was a buck and squaw fight in Douglas alley. The squaw had been wrestling with too much bad whisky; otherwise she would have been the champion.

Huntington Crushers.

Two of Huntington's patent ore crushers passed through Reno yesterday on their way to the Monte Cristo Mining Company, operating near Carson City.

PERSONAL.

George Russell, of Elko, is in town.

J. J. Linn returned this morning from a month's visit at Sacramento.

M. M. Frederick, the Comstock jeweler, was among the passengers for the Bay last night.

Lew Kelly, Deputy Sheriff of Eureka county, came over from Carson last evening and will spend a few days in Reno.

J. D. Baldwin, of Virginia City, came over on last night's Virginia and Truckee express train and left on the overland for Oakland, Cal., where his mother, who is in a very feeble condition, lives.

BEGINNING BUSINESS.

A New Departure in Nevada Money Matters.
By July 1st the Nevada-California Loan and Investment Company will open their books for business. The country east of the mountains has been at a great disadvantage heretofore in the matter of securing loans among the class of citizens who have desired to improve their lands, and it will be in this that the country will be benefitted. A glance at the list of incorporators will be proof to any one that it

WILL NOT BE MISMANAGED.

Men who have handled their own affairs as prudently as have many of their number will never give their names to a doubtful project. The record of H. M. Yerlington, D. L. Bliss, J. B. Overton, D. A. Bender, and G. W. Mapes is brilliant in the financial history of the coast, while the names of Manning, Martin, Lowell, and Beck are synonymous with business judgment and commercial integrity. The President, Hon. Evan Williams, is a leading spirit in the revival of mining and milling of the Comstock ores, and his prudent and sagacious methods have made millions of dollars from ores formerly thrown out as not worth hoisting. The Vice-President and manager, Mr. Chas. T. Bender, has for 13 years been the acting officer in the First National Bank of Reno, conducting its business from a small beginning up to the greatest

PROSPERITY AND IMPORTANCE.
His skill and intelligence combined with habits of industry and with the fidelity so necessary to success as a banker have given him the confidence of the entire coast. The Secretary, Gen. C. S. Preble, is thoroughly conversant with the geography and resources of the Great Basin, having been in every part of it in his capacity of Deputy United States Surveyor and having been for four years State Surveyor General. The Trustees are men of experience, with an intimate knowledge of values and with the business pride natural to their stations. The company expects to do what it can to place a part of the vast accumulations of money lying stagnant in the business centers in circulation among the farmers and industrious settlers of this region.

Foot-Hill Land.

There is a large amount of foot-hill land in this neighborhood that may in time become valuable farming land. In many localities on this coast this character of land was the very last to be taken up and cultivated, but after a while it became desirable as, in many instances, it will produce crops without irrigation, particularly winter grain. This portion of the country should be no exception to the rule, and the time may come when our sloping hills will be laid out in wheat fields, especially if the usual Spring showers of the last few years continue. Some of the finest farms in Eastern Oregon are located in the foot hills of the Blue mountain range, and crops are heavy and failures almost unknown. It would be a good plan to plant a small patch or two of winter wheat near the foot of the mountains this Fall and experiment.

District Court.

In the District Court this morning L. J. Moore, indicted for murder, entered a plea of not guilty and his case was set for trial on July 20th. The attorneys for the defendant informed the Court, among other things, that it was the intention of the defense to have the body of the girl alleged to have been murdered exhumed for the purpose of determining, if possible, the real cause of death.

The case of Fayhee against Pedroll, a case transferred from Storey county to Washoe for trial, was set for hearing next Saturday.

The Court will pass sentence to-morrow on Smith and Martin, the confessed burglars.

Applicants for Teachers' Certificates.

The teachers' examination for Washoe county will be held on Tuesday, June 28, commencing at 9 A. M., in the brick school house. Those desiring certificates will apply at that time. All applicants will bear in mind that no certificate will be issued to any person under 18 years of age; no second-grade certificate will be renewed unless the person has been engaged in continuous teaching. All new applicants must present satisfactory evidence of good moral character.

WM. LUCAS,
Co. Supt.

SHILOH'S CURE will immediately relieve Croup, Whooping Cough and Bronchitis. Sold by Osburn & Shoemaker.

BREVITIES.

Local and General News.
The travel from San Francisco to Lake Tahoe is increasing.

Virginia City is to have a rousing Fourth of July celebration.

The Truckee river is higher than it has been for several years.

The new steamer Emerald will plow the waters of Tahoe in about two weeks.

The recent rains have again started the bunch grass growing on the mountain ranges.

It is estimated that the pay-rolls of Storey county will foot up $200,000 the current month.

A fine programme has been arranged for pleasure-seekers at Steamboat Springs next Sunday.

To-day has been decidedly cool and pleasant—a marked difference from the temperature of three and four days ago.

The pupils of Mount St. Mary's Academy went on an excursion to Donner lake this morning. They will return this evening.

A rich gold strike has been made in the Woods mine located about two miles northwest of the toll house on the Ophir grade.

C. P. Cross, who forged the names of prominent citizens of Reno to a couple of promissory notes, has acknowledged his guilt to District Attorney Evans.

Ed. Bouehard, a blacksmith, committed suicide at Boca yesterday by jumping into the Truckee. He leaves a family. No cause is yet assigned for the rash act.

Acting Governor Davis made the following appointments Tuesday: Mr. George Plummer, member of the Board of Agriculture, for District No. 6, Lyon county, and Mr. T. N. Stone, to be a Notary Public of Elko county, to reside at the town of Elko.

Day before yesterday the United States Grand Jury indicted George Ham and Henry Stevens for robbing the Postoffice at Palisade. They were to have been arraigned this morning in the United States Court at Carson.

There will be an excursion to Donner Lake Saturday, June 11th, that will give our citizens an opportunity to pass a pleasant day at that interesting resort. School children will enjoy the trip, and all the little ones should be permitted to attend.

A Contemptible Piece of Business.

The San Francisco Post of last Tuesday evening contains an article, purporting to be from a correspondent in Virginia City, in which Mr. Frank Wildes, Agent of the Nevada Bank there, is made to appear in a very ridiculous light. It is cruel and vicious, and was probably calculated to injure the gentleman with his employers; but it is hoped that such will not be the case. Speaking of the matter, the Virginia Chronicle of last evening says: "Like many other quiet and respectable citizens at various times, he was brutally assailed with rocks the other day by what is known as the 'Norcross Gang'—than whom no greater ruffians can be found on Tar Flat. The horse he was riding was struck by the missiles, which so exasperated Mr. Wildes that he dismounted and seized one of the hoodlums with the intention of taking him to the police court. The others then set upon him and he was overwhelmed. The incident, however, did not warrant such an elaborate description as appeared in the Post, which is severely denounced by his many friends in that city. Mr. Wildes is a man who has the respect of every one in this community with whom he has had any business relations, and if the article in question was calculated to injure him it is to be hoped that it will fall short of the mark."

Warm Weather Drinks.

J. Becker manufactures a strictly first-class article in the way of soda water, sarsaparilla and ginger ale. They quench thirst, and refresh one these warm days. THE GAZETTE knows whereof it speaks, a box of the waters having, through the courtesy of Mr. Becker, been enjoyed by its staff this afternoon.
